

Business Womens Network

e-bulletin

DECEMBER 09

Just before we all get caught up in the festive frenzy, we thought we'd highlight some BWN diary dates for your new 2010 calendars!

We'll be publishing our 2010 programme early in the new year, but in the meantime, you may like to join us at our Edinburgh or Glasgow events in January.

Just sign up at www.morton-fraser.com or call Sabrina Maguire on 0131 247 1033 to book your place. You can also keep in touch with other BWN members at our Linked in group

We look forward to welcoming you to our first Business Women's Network event in our new offices at Quartermile, Edinburgh in 2010, and to one of Glasgow's newest venues which opened its doors around the same time as our new office opened.

So, make these a date for your diaries and in the meantime, can we take this opportunity to wish you a very happy, healthy and peaceful holiday period. This year instead of sending cards, we are making a donation to Mercy Corps.

Speaker: Judith Auld

In a dispute with a customer, client, colleague or someone in your family and keen to know how you might resolve it or a future dispute which might arise?

Come along and hear about the options for resolving disputes and to hear more about mediation, what it is and what it can offer.

Judith Auld is an experienced mediator. A Solicitor and Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Personnel & Development (CIPD) with 12 years senior level experience in Scottish charities, she trained as a mediator in 1997 and was Chair of the Association of Mediators from 2001-03 and Founding Chair of a CIPD Special Interest Group in Mediation from 2001-04.

She is a long-time supporter of mediation as a means of defusing conflict and facilitating constructive relationships in the workplace and elsewhere. Judith will run an interactive session which promises to be fun and informative.

At Morton Fraser, we recognise the value of mediation and are highly regarded within the profession and business community for our skills in this area. As well as representing our own clients at mediation we have a number of mediators within the firm who provide their services as independent mediators in a variety of sectors so we are delighted to have Judith along to share her experience.
